About Me

Mechatronics Engineering student with a strong foundation in C programming, MATLAB, circuit design, and structural analysis built through intensive study at Stellenbosch University and hands-on industry experience. I thrive at the intersection of hardware, software, and human connection, having facilitated high-level partnership meetings and collaborated on multidisciplinary team projects. Currently pursuing my Mechatronics degree at JKUAT and actively seeking opportunities to apply my skills in automation, embedded systems, or tech for social impact.
